A SNUFF-BOX.

IS royal highneſs the prince of Wales, the patron of ingenuity and taſte, was about two years ſince the purchaſer of a ſnuff-box thus ornamented and contrived.

It was a double box opening on both ſides, with rims of gold. On one ſide, a ſplendid medallion appeared in the centre, round which was a row of large pearls. When this ſide of the box was placed upwards upon the table, the medallion upon a very ſlight preſſure opened, and an artificial goldfinch, executed in gold and coloured, ſo as to have a very near reſemblance to nature, ſprung up.

The bird picked its wings, hopped round the little circle allotted it, and, for about two minutes, chirped the few notes making the morning ſong of the goldfinch. It then paſſed into a delightful air of Haydn's, and gave it ſo well, that the notes might have been liſtened to for their ſound, as well as for the curioſity of their production. So ended its performance and its appearance.

A thouſand guineas was the reward given by the prince to the mechaniſt of this admirable ſnuff-box.

Feb. 9. According to the preliminary articles of the treaty ſigned at Jaſſy on the 19th ult. between Ruſſia and the Porte, "the empreſs of Ruſſia keeps all the territory between the Bog and the Dnieſter, conformable to the convention ſigned at Galacz, the 12th of Auguſt, 1791. She reſtores to the Porte Wallachia, which is to be governed in the ſame manner it was before the declaration of war.

"The Port cedes to Ruſſia a certain diſtrict of country on the ſide of Caucaſus.

"The priſoners taken in the war, of what nation ſoever, are to be liberated without ranſom.

"The navigation of the Dnieſter is to be free for all nations.

"Ruſſia renounces the demand of 12,000,000 of piaſters for damage during the war; and the Ruſſian armies are to evacuate all the Turkiſh territories by the end of May."

They write from St. Maloes, that great inundations have lately happened in that neighbourhood; that the waters had in ſeveral places covered the ridge that ſeparates the two ſeas, and having waſhed away part of the dyke that leads to the St. Severn, in a great meaſure overflowed the Moraſs, to the great ſurpriſe and terror of the inhabitants.

HALIFAX, February 14.

By the poſt we have received Quebec papers to the 15th of December, which contain the following paragraphs:

On Tueſday evening, a quarter before eight o'clock, a conſiderable ſhock of an earthquake, accompanied by a ſubterraneous noiſe, was felt in this city and neighbourhood, the accounts of its duration are various, but is generally reported to have been about a minute, and conjectured to have come on from the north, and gone off in a ſouth or ſouth-weſt direction.

No earthquakes have been felt at Quebec ſince thoſe of the 2d and 12th of January, which were more violent than the preſent—however we underſtand that ſhocks are frequently felt at St. Paul's Bay, les Eboulemens and Malbay, where the ſoil every where indicates the qualities common to moſt volcanic countries.

Extract of a letter dated Quebec, December 15, 1791.

"Since I had the pleaſure of writing to you, governor Simcoe has arrived, and is to remain at Quebec during the winter. I am told it is his intention to ſettle ſomewhere in that extenſive country which is bounded by Lake Erie to the ſouth, to the north by the Grand river, to the weſt by Lake Huron, and to the eaſt by Niagara; and he is to build a city there, to be called London. A large corps of men are to be employed in cutting roads; and he is to have artificers from England for the execution of all public buildings. —It gives me pleaſure to obſerve that governor Simcoe and his lady ſet a laudable example by conſtantly attending church in this place; as does alſo his royal highneſs the prince; and by his command, every officer in the garriſon.—The winter ſet in ſo early that two ſhips are detained here, and have loſt their paſſage."

BOSTON, March 15.

Port-au-Prince exhibits a ſcene of unparalleled diſtreſs—the negroes have got many ſtrong holds in the mountains—and continue to treat the white inhabitants with the greateſt ſeverity when in their power—we have an account of one man in particular that was ſo unfortunate as to fall a victim to them; he was active in the execution of ſome of the blacks, at the commencement of the diſturbances in that place; they ſet a mark on him, and by ſtratagem made him their priſoner—immediately he was laſhed to a pole, and raiſed into the air about ſeventeen feet, where he continued without meat or drink for twelve hours, expoſed to the ſcorching ſun. He was then taken down, and confined in a loathſome cell, without the comforts of life, and none to yield the leaſt ſuccour or relief. Occaſioned by his being laſhed with the cords to the pole, his hands became uſeleſs, he was unable to feed himſelf with what theſe wretches allowed him, and had no other way than to lay on his face and eat his ſcanty pittance; this he did for ſome days, till at length being exhauſted and finding nothing but trouble, with the increaſe of his days—his heart ſunk beneath the burden and he fell aſleep. Who can read this and not drop a tear!

NEW-YORK, April 6.

[TRULY WONDERFUL.]

From a PORTSMOUTH (N. H.) PAPER.

It is a fact, that a gentleman of this town has now in his poſſeſſion a tame duck, which was hatched on the third of April laſt—the morning on which the eclipſe took place, and reſembled a luminous ring—and what is very extraordinary, which none account for, is, that every egg this duck has laid, bears the reſemblance of the eclipſe to perfection; it appears on the large end of the egg, and the moon looks to be about two thirds off the ſun, and forms a beautiful ſemicircle.—The place of the moon is of a blueiſh caſt, and that of the ſun a much lighter colour.

[And what is moſt ſingular (we are informed from another quarter) this duck is ſuch a profeſſed ſtar-gazer, that it's expected it will be able to calculate the next eclipſe.]

PITTSBURGH, March 31.

Authentic information received from Fort Franklin ſays, the Senecas have killed a Delaware Indian at that garriſon, whom they ſuſpected as being a ſpy.

Captain Caſs arrived at Fort Franklin on Sunday laſt, the 25th inſtant, with the detachment of troops under his command.

The rangers on the frontiers of Ohio county have given information to colonel Biggs and captain M'Mahan of their diſcovering an Indian trail on the north fork of Still Water, on the 21ſt inſtant, and late that evening heard a gun near M'Intire's fork of Croſs creek, where they ſuppoſed the Indians had encamped.

Major M'Cully has diſpatched captain Paul, with a full company of men to cover the frontiers of Waſhington county; enſign Murphy has marched with a detachment of 28 men to ſcout on the frontiers of Weſtmoreland county, and take poſſeſſion of Reed's ſtation up the Allegany, and a party from captain Smith's company to ſcout on Beaver creek towards the Salt Licks.——Arrangements have been made by major M'Cully to take ſome advantageous poſt on the frontiers, but cannot put them into effect for want of the camp equipage, which has not yet arrived from Philadelphia, and at preſent cannot be procured in this country.

PHILADELPHIA, April 7.

Yeſterday arrived in this port the barque Neptune, captain Earle, from Calcutta, which ſhe left the 26th of November, at which time lord Cornwallis had marched from Bangalore, preparatory to the re-commencement of his operations againſt Seringapatam, the capital of Tippoo's dominions.—A ſhip that had been ſome time ready to ſail for England, was detained to carry home his lordſhip's diſpatches, which it was ſuppoſed would contain an account of the event of the expedition.

The fine new ſhip Preſident Waſhington, built in the ſtate of Rhode-Iſland, was ſold at Calcutta, in November laſt, for 120,000 ficca rupees, or 15,000l. ſterling.

The following meſſage was delivered to the houſe of repreſentatives on Thurſday laſt.

UNITED STATES, April 5th, 1792.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Repreſentatives,

I have maturely conſidered the act paſſed by the two houſes, entitled, "An act for an apportionment of repreſentatives among the ſeveral ſtates, according to the firſt enumeration;" and I return it to your houſe, wherein it originated, with the following objections:

Firſt—The conſtitution has preſcribed that repreſentatives ſhall be apportioned among the ſeveral ſtates, according to their reſpective numbers; and there is no one proportion or diviſor which, applied to the reſpective numbers of the ſtates, will yield the number and allotment of repreſentatives propoſed by the bill.

Second—The conſtitution has alſo provided, that the number of repreſentatives ſhall not exceed one for every thirty thouſand; which reſtriction is, by the context, and by fair and obvious conſtruction, to be applied to the ſeparate and reſpective numbers of the ſtates: and the bill has allotted to eight of the ſtates more than one for thirty thouſand.

G. WASHINGTON.

In conſequence of the above meſſage, it became neceſſary to take the ſenſe of the houſe on the ſubject. —Notwithſtanding the negative of the preſident, if two thirds of each houſe agree to the bill, it becomes a law.—However, on putting the queſtion yeſterday in the houſe of repreſentatives, the yeas and nays were,

For the bill 28.
Againſt it 33.

The bill was accordingly loſt.

The ſtatue of doctor Franklin, lately ſent for by William Bingham, Eſquire, by him preſented to the Library Company of Philadelphia, and intended to ornament the principal front of their new building in Fifth-ſtreet, is arrived from Italy via New-York.

The figure is erect, one arm reſting on a pile of books, and the right hand holding a ſceptre reverſed, an emblem of Franklin's ANTI MONARCHICAL principles. The left hand holds a ſcroll. The figure is clad in a Roman TOGA, and is admirably wrought out of ſolid block of pure white marble. The likeneſs is well preſerved,—the head being a copy of the famous Houdon's buſt. It is the firſt piece of ſculpture of the ſize ever ſeen in America, truly worthy the examination of the connoiſſeur. The marble is remarkable for its ſize and its purity, and was brought 100 miles to the neighbourhood of Rome, where the ſtatue was executed by an eminent artiſt.—It is wiſhed by many that the directors of the Library will give it ſhelter within their ſpacious hall, rather than expoſe it to the weather. Out of doors it will be liable to accident, within it may remain a perpetual monument to the memory of the illuſtrious founder of the inſtitution, and a memento of the generoſity of the liberal donor.

[From the SALEM GAZETTE of March 20.]

Of the MESSESAGO CHIEF.

By a perſon from Montreal, who left that place in February, we have the following account and deſcription of the Meſſeſago chief, who commanded the enemy in the fatal action of the 4th of November. He was at Montreal for the purpoſe of ſtirring up the ſeveral tribes of Indians in Canada, many of whom had readily joined him on an expedition againſt the ſpring. The Cagnawagas had taken the lead, and had ſent deputies to Quebec, to Johnſton, &c. who had returned before our informant left Montreal, with an account that they had agreed to join them. Two days after our informant left it was the time appointed for a convention of the Indians at Johnſton, when they were to determine on the number of warriors that could be ſpared from each tribe. A gentleman in high office promiſed our informant that if he would remain one week in Montreal he would give him an account of their meeting, and of their whole proceedings—but his buſineſs prevented it. The Cagnawagas had applied to governor Johnſton, ſuperintendent of Indian affairs, for his ſanction on entering into a war. He declared he had no authority over them—they muſt act their own pleaſure. But his advice was, that they ſhould not meddle in the buſineſs.

The Meſſeſago chief is a perſon ſix feet high—about 45 years of age, of a very ſour and morole countenance, and apparently very craſty and ſubtle. His dreſs was Indian hoſe and moccaſons, a blue petticoat that came half way down his thighs—an European waiſtcoat and ſourtout; his head was bound with an Indian cap that hung half way down his back, and almoſt entirely filled with plain ſilver broaches to the number of more than two hundred—he had two earrings to each ear, the upper part of each was formed of three ſilver medals about the ſize of a dollar—the lower part was formed of quarters of dollars, and fell more than twelve inches from his ears—one from each ear over his breaſt—the other over his back—he had three very large noſe jewels of ſilver that were curiouſly painted. The account he gave of the action, was, that they killed 1400 of the whites, with the loſs of nine only of their party, one of whom killed himſelf by accident—Our informant is full in the opinion that the Britiſh have not in any inſtance encouraged the ſavages—but that the refugees are very bitter againſt the United States. He was frequently in company with the Meſſeſago and other chiefs at the houſe of a gentleman who was a linguiſter to the ſavages, and from him derived this information.

The diſagreement between the general legiſlative aſſembly of St. Domingo, and the executive commiſſioners, ſent by the king, with pacific views, is one great cauſe of the long continuance of diſturbances in that unfortunate iſland.

The friends of liberty and good order expected much from the general aſſembly, organized on the principles and in the manner pointed out by the French national aſſembly, their hopes, however, were leſs ſanguine, when they ſaw that the members of the former aſſembly, to whom great ſhare of the misfortune of St. Domingo are attributed, by their influence had obtained ſeats in the new aſſembly. Their hopes totally vaniſhed, when they beheld thoſe from whom they expected efforts to reſtore good order, overpowered by numbers of a different ſtamp, and gradually seceding from the legislature. Until the complexion of that legislature changes, and more unanimity takes place between them and the king's commissioners, no lasting change for the better, we are assured from a respectable quarter, can be expected in the situation of that distressed colony."

April 9. By papers to the end of February and beginning of March and pamphlets received from Cape François, it appears, that the civil commissioners sent by the king, agreeable to a decree of the national assembly, and colonial assembly of St. Domingo are still wrangling concerning the extent of their respective powers, and doing little towards restoring good order. By the words of the decree of the national assembly, extensive powers, it would appear, are vested in the commissioners, and by the debates of the colonial assembly they are attempted to be reduced, by strained construction, within very narrow limits. Without unanimity between these (in many respects) concurrent powers, we have already said, and are now confirmed in the belief, tranquillity can never be restored in the distracted colony.

Several accounts from Europe concur in confirming the intelligence, that the Belgic states had determined to join France, in case of a war with other confederate powers in favour of restoring the old despotic government of France. At Douay, in Flanders, and in its vicinity, were assembled, about the middle of January, sixty thousand men, ready to co-operate with the French against the emperor, &c.

" Although lord Cornwallis has not taken Seringapatam (says a London paper) he has nevertheless taken a map of it; so that we have reaped at least some advantage from the last campaign in India, considering how many of our disasters were to be ascribed to our geographical ignorance."

April 13. Governor St. Clair having resigned his commission of major-general in the army,—Anthony Wayne, Esquire, has been appointed in his stead, and will accordingly succeed to the command of the troops, destined for the protection of the frontiers.—Four gentlemen are proposed as brigade-generals, but their appointments have not yet taken place.

The following gentlemen are proposed as brigade-generals: Colonel Morgan, of Virginia; general Brooks, of Massachusetts; general Wilkinson, of Kentucky; and colonel Willet, of New-York.

Scheme of a Lottery,

For the purpose of disposing of 1198 ACRES of LAND, lying in Anne-Arundel county,

—VIZ.—

No. 1. PARTS of Silver Stone and Major's Choice, being on Fishing creek, and full in view of the Chesapeake Bay, containing 350 acres of as rich heavy timbered land as any in the state, two thirds of which is covered with heavy wood, the remainder is in cultivation, which will readily produce 50,000 pounds of fine tobacco per annum, besides grain of every kind in great abundance.

Several acres of this valuable tract are now in meadow, and produce as fine grass, and as great a quantity, as any place in the world; much more land, at a trifling expence, may be made into meadow, equal in goodness; it has also the desirable advantage of affording the most excellent fish, oysters and wild fowl, in their season.

The improvements are a dwelling house, several negro quarters, three tobacco houses, corn house, &c. all in good repair; its great value and agreeable situation renders every other encomium unnecessary.

No. 2. A lot of 148 acres of land.

No. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, Lots of 100 acres each, lying in said county.

The above-mentioned lots are joining each other, well timbered, with a quantity of good meadow land, which may be cleared at a very small expence: It produces great abundance of all kinds of grain.

Notice will be given of the drawing, and a list of the fortunate numbers shall be immediately published.

Deeds will be prepared, which, with possession of the said lands, will be given to the holders of fortunate numbers, on demand, reserving to the respective tenants on the land liberty to take off the crops they may then have on the premises.
